Self-learning with a me-map

Most of your learning involves memorization. You've been trained to memorize information: 7 times 7 equals 49; Washington is the capital of the U.S.A. At school you memorized nouns, verbs, math tables, musical scales, dates and chemical symbols. And memory learning plays an important role in your self-learning with a me-map. It commences the comprehension process that leads to self-understanding.

This me-map – your birth chart – contains data pertaining to you; and by applying the science of astrology to your birth chart you'll learn about your character, special type of intelligence and ability, and life journey that ensures the continual development of your character through experience.

So, you're not learning astrology. You're not memorizing a lot of astro-data that doesn't relate to you. You're memorizing birth chart data that has personal relevance and you're validating the data with what you know about yourself through real-life experience.

Most astrology textbooks present unsubstantiated static ideas and astrology isn't about static ideas. It's about energies and energy relationships: And your birth chart maps energies and energy relationships that define who you are.

Each planet maps a special kind of energy and a planet located in a zodiac sign depicts an energy relationship. Birth chart planets by their sign locations provide data that pertains to your attitudinal behavior as you go about your daily life satisfying soul-deep desires. The planets allow you tag your keynote attitude-motivations with their astrological markers.

An eBook that invites you to assess your own birth chart must present basic astro-data and explain how the data should be applied to your birth chart so that you can learn about yourself.

The subject matter of the venture is you so an active interest in yourself will get you going; but there's a right and wrong way to go about the project. You want to learn about yourself in the most effective, time-efficient way: Knowing how is worthwhile info.

Fact-check: Astrology is the study of nature's laws and you must go to your birth chart armed with an unbiased curiosity. You must have a strong desire to discover personal truth.

At the start the proposal that you can look at a map of the planets and zodiac signs and learn about yourself will take a little time to grasp.

Then it's very important to grasp the meaning of basic astro-information and understand what to do with it. If you perceive the information and instruction incorrectly you'll assimilate it incorrectly in your not-conscious mind and then you'll apply it incorrectly.

It's important to acquire an understanding of the self-learning procedure. It starts with the astro-data which is applied to your birth chart and then verified with real-life data based on personal experience.

Then what you have learned about yourself has to be assimilated and clearly understood. This assimilation process is usually slow. Maybe you'll have to learn pro-active self-observation. Maybe you'll make notes and convert astro-data into your own words. Keywords should be memorized.

You should crop and refine the astro-data till you have a clear image of yourself based on real-life experience – objective personal truth. Your aim is to clearly understand how the astrological energies mapped in your birth chart are expressing in your character and life.

Getting the best out of yourself involves creative conceptual thinking. It involves seeing yourself as you are now – observing and linking ineffective-misguided attitudes with real-life failure outcomes – and creating more effective behavior concepts that are grounded in birth chart truths. Your discordant behavior is a handicap that is having an adverse influence on your self-development. It has to be corrected.

Creative conceptual thinking involves the examination and analysis of birth chart data to create a better you. It requires a clear understanding of the energies in your birth chart and yourself.

Some self-study guidelines

Develop an organized self-study schedule

Make this schedule habitual

Set a self-study timetable

Balance study time with social-physical activity

Motivate yourself and make an effort

Take your time and do your best

Don't study if you're not in the mood

Poor self-study habits reduce your progress and you should realize that a good study program, a clear understanding of birth chart data, and effective self-observation skills are valuable assets.

About this eBook

You're assessing your own birth chart to learn and know yourself. The project commenced with an explanation of the planets. You collected and assessed planet data to learn about the ten dynamic urges that get you going. You need to know your planets.

The planets in your chart are associated with zodiac signs and it's highly likely your first encounter with astrology involved your Sun sign. It provides valuable data, but there's more to your birth chart than a Sun sign and now it's time to expand your knowledge of your keynote signs. But why?

Well... you have attitude. You're a bundle of behaviors and qualities and the planets by their sign locations align your not-conscious desires with attitude. Attitude pilots desire and in your birth chart a planet-sign association depicts an energy relationship: The not-conscious desire-urge mapped by the planet is aligned with the attitude-motivation mapped by the sign.

This eBook presents the science of the zodiac signs. You can use it to learn about your keynote signs and the innate attitudes and qualities you were predisposed to develop. It will tell you a lot about yourself that you already know.

The assessment of your keynote zodiac signs is an amazing experience. They put you in the picture in regard to your attitudinal behavior and special qualities. You'll come to realize that the spirit of the zodiac is embedded in your soul. Think about that.

Your behavior is a dynamic resulting from the simultaneous operation of 4 birth chart factors – planets, signs, aspects and houses – and this eBook provides information pertaining to the zodiac signs. You're collecting and assessing sign data to learn about your keynote attitudes.

A brief recap of your birth chart

You're on a journey to develop intelligence and ability. Your life is a continuous expansion of consciousness. States of consciousness saved in your not-conscious soul-mind represent the fruits of your living; and after doing the necessary preparatory training you were born a human being.

When you were born your soul's most energetic thought-structures – the memory legacy of previous experience – have the same vibratory rates as the 10 planets of our solar system and the zodiac signs. Your consciousness or character closely resembled the astro-energy pattern in the sky. Your birth chart captured this momentous moment. It's a map of the planets and zodiac signs that connects you to the universe.

Your birth chart is a map of your character. It's a map of the mental and emotional states of consciousness that comprise your astral body. It maps your soul's thought organization and structure. It's a map of all the experiences your soul has had on its evolutionary journey up to the time of your birth. It reveals how your character has been formatted by experience.

Human life comes with the gift of self-consciousness and expanded environmental opportunities that ensure specialized training and rapid progress in the development of your special type of intelligence and ability.

Your birth chart is empowering. It pictures you and the behaviors you're predisposed to develop. It answers the big question – Who am I? It shines the light of personal truth on your soul. It provides self-knowledge that you can use to take control of your life and destiny. It allows you to chart your future.

Birth chart data should be accepted as truly there and truly you and if you've been paying attention much of the data will verify what you have already learned and know about yourself.

You and the zodiac

The zodiac is a belt of astral energy that encircles the Earth. Its width extends approximately 8° north or south of the apparent path of the Sun (the ecliptic). This belt, through which the planets move, is mapped by the starry constellations. It has 12 equal segments called signs – Aries, Taurus, Gemini, Cancer, Leo, Virgo, Libra, Scorpio, Sagittarius, Capricorn, Aquarius and Pisces – which possess peculiar vibratory rates. They express in human life as well defined mental/emotional attitudes, qualities and lifestyles. (Don't confuse the zodiac signs with the constellations.)

Attitude is a way of thinking, feeling and acting and nature has provided a diverse stock of attitudes. Twelve zodiac signs give twelve different temperaments and a diversity of opinion. Gemini has an intellectual attitude and Scorpio has an emotional attitude. They experience life differently. The 12 members of a jury have different perspectives which frame their verdicts.

The 12 zodiac signs are placed around your birth chart. They impart a peculiar quality to the planets located in them. They give resonance and general trends to a planet's energy. Signs impart desire with attitude. They describe the manner in which desire is expressed. A planet's sign location gives its desire-urge a special mode of expression.

In God's Great Astrology Code the function of the zodiac signs is to give the desire-urges mapped by the planets an attitude-motivation. Signs do not have cusps. They're separated by abrupt partitions. A planet associated with a sign expresses its attitude only. Each sign has qualities, likes and dislikes.

The spirit of the zodiac is embedded in your soul. It expresses in your behavior, special qualities, disposition and way of living. You have attitude.

You have attitude

Orthodox psychology defines attitude as a manner of acting that's representative of feeling or opinion. It's a set way of thinking, feeling and acting and you have attitude. It's your way of living and doing. Your daily – work and social – life is all about you doing your thing as you navigate a complex network of people, activities and responsibilities your way.

You're a bundle of attitudes and your daily-life involves (unconscious) behavior adaptation as you move about and engage with your partner, children, workmates, employer and friends.

Hermetic astrology defines attitude as a set of ideas, behaviors and qualities. It proposes that the twelve zodiac signs that God has made available define twelve different attitudes that life can develop and express; and that the sign locations of the planets in your birth chart reveal attitudes, qualities, dispositions, likes and dislikes that you are destined to develop.

Your birth chart pictures a core set of attitudes, behavior traits, motivations and qualities. The core components of your character – your individuality, mentality, speech and personality – are embedded with keynote attitudes and qualities. Your birth environment and conditioning by experience specialized their expression. They will be harmonious or discordant. Don't waste time familiarizing yourself with the inconsequential signs in your chart.

Today your core attitudes are locked in as not-conscious habits. They're habitual modes of conduct. They're who you are. They're consistent and predictable traits and qualities that can be modified and changed. Your birth chart's special sign profile is embedded in your soul. You need to know and understand your keynote signs.

Desire and attitude

You can liken yourself to a car with a tank full of petrol that's on a journey. Desire is the key that turns the ignition on and attitude pilots you to where you want to go. Desire has an attitude-motivation.

Your character is composed of traits, attitudes and qualities which are associated with ten dynamic desire-urges that get you going. Your desires (planets) are aligned with attitude (signs).

You're a bundle of desires. You desire power, significance, a home and family, social activity, adventure, excitement, prosperity and security: And the planets in your birth chart allow you to learn their strength and functionality.

You're a bundle of attitudes. The zodiac signs are markers for attitudes, dispositions and qualities. You have a keynote sign profile and your birth chart allows you to learn about your core attitude-motivations.

Desire and attitude are two distinct components of your behavior that blend together. They're united. Not-conscious desire is aligned with attitude and your birth chart reveals this behavior dynamic. The not-conscious urges that spur you into action are mapped by the planets and their attitude-motivations are mapped by their sign associates.

An effective attitude gets it right. It pilots not-conscious desire to a fortunate-success outcome. An ineffective 'bad' attitude gets it wrong. It pilots not-conscious desire to an unfortunate outcome. It spells family, social and work-life problems. The difference between success and failure is attitude. With the right attitude you can overcome the problem associated with the discordant intent of an unruly not-conscious desire.

Your chart's sign power summary

The 12 zodiac signs placed around your birth chart do not have the same level of relevance. Those associated with planets have their importance accentuated and each sign has an astrodyne power score which measures its influence. Your chart's sign power summary gives you easy access to this valuable data. It lists the 12 zodiac signs in descending power order.

Your chart's sign power summary does not tell you the sign and decanate locations of each planet. You have to get this data from the chart; and it's easy to note the sign location of each planet, ascendant and Midheaven.

You have 5 keynote signs. They are the signs associated with your dominant planet and the Sun, Moon, Mercury and ascendant. They denote core attitude-motivations that explain your habitual thoughts, feelings and actions.

The first sign listed on your chart's sign power summary is your dominant sign. It will likely have several planets located in it. Maybe it's the sign associated with your dominant planet or your Sun, Moon, Mercury or ascendant sign. It denotes a dominant attitude-motivation. The sign listed last is your weakest sign. The summary allows you to create a core attitude profile.

You should rate the signs with more than 8.3% of the chart's sign power as prominent. But no matter what signs are prominent by power it's the signs associated with your dominant planet, Sun, Moon, Mercury and ascendant that have the most relevance. They denote your core attitudes.

Your chart's sign power summary indicates each sign's harmony or discord score so you can create a sign harmony-discord summary. It's just a matter of listing the signs in descending harmony-discord order. The sign with the most harmony is listed first and the sign with the most discord is listed last.

Planets in signs

The twelve zodiac signs placed around your birth chart are markers that indicate the presence of attitudes, qualities, motivations, dispositions, traits, likes and dislikes. And the planets in your birth chart by their sign locations associate the ten dynamic not-conscious desires that get you going with a set orientation, posture and mode of expression.

Your life is all about thoughts, feelings and actions. You spend your life putting your thoughts and feelings in motion. Your desire to do or have something is aligned with attitude. Attitude is a goal directed behavior.

A planet's sign location associates its desire-urge with the sign's attitude-motivation and you're collecting and assessing sign data to learn your core attitudes. A cluster of planets in the same sign indicates that a number of not-conscious urges have the same attitude-motivation.

The signs associated with your dominant planet, Sun, Moon, Mercury and ascendant are keynote signs. They define a set of core attitudes and qualities. (Maybe another sign is conspicuous by its planet associations.) You can ignore the signs that contain no planets. Their influence is negligible. Your keynote signs require your close attention.

Keynote signs have astrodyne power scores. They may or may not be prominent but their influence is always outstanding. More power ups a sign's influence so their power scores are used to rank their personal relevance and importance.

Keynote signs have harmony or discord scores which allow you to learn about the functionality of your thoughts, feelings and actions. They'll tell you what you're doing right and wrong. Their harmony or discord scores are used to create an attitude efficacy profile.

You need to know and understand all the planets in your birth chart but you only need to know and understand the keynote signs made conspicuous by their planet associations. What you do involves motives and reasons and if you've been paying attention you will recognize your attitude-motivations and way of living in your keynote signs.

Your dominant sign is the one with highest astrodyne score. It plays a dominant role in your life. It's likely to be the sign associated with your dominant planet, the Sun, Moon, Mercury or ascendant. There are usually several planets located in this sign so its attitude-motivation, qualities, likes and dislikes are associated with several dynamic desire-urges.

Your dominant planet is very influential. More of its desire energy is saved and stored in your not-conscious soul-mind. It marks for a dominant not-conscious urge. Its associated sign is a keynote sign. It denotes a core attitude-motivation that comprises outstanding behavior traits, qualities, likes and dislikes that are easy to observe.

Your Sun sign is a keynote sign. It maps a core attitude-motivation – a bundle of behaviors, qualities and tendencies that are deep-seated, stable and resistant to change. It denotes an enduring pattern of behavior that's aligned with your desire for power and control. It indicates an attitude grounded in thoughts, feelings and actions associated with your desire for self-importance, significance and esteem. Your Sun-sign attitude is easy to observe.

Your Moon sign is a keynote sign. It aligns your domestic urge, family-daily life and mentality with an attitude-motivation. It indicates your way of processing the feelings, hunches, impressions and intuitions that arise from experience and the general trend of your not-conscious and conscious mental activity. It denotes a core mental attitude that defines your mind and daily-life living. Objectively observing and appraising the attitude aligned with your subjective mind requires intrapersonal intelligence.

Your Mercury sign is a keynote sign. It associates your desire to talk, write, think and reason with an attitude-motivation. It denotes your manner of speaking and aligns your intellectual urge, intelligence and desire to learn, study and solve problems with traits, qualities, tendencies, likes and dislikes. Objectively observing and appraising the way you communicate, think, reason and solve problems requires intrapersonal intelligence.

Your Venus sign links your social urge with an attitude-motivation and aligns your desire for companionship and to give and receive affection with a set orientation, qualities and tendencies. It indicates your behavior when mixing and socializing with others. (If Venus is your dominant planet its sign associate is a keynote sign.)

Your Mars sign associates your aggressive urge with an attitude-motivation. It aligns your desire to energize effort, compete, have sex and attack obstacles, opponents or enemies with an attitude that comprises inclinations and qualities. It indicates your behavior in a conflict situation. (If Mars is your dominant planet its sign associate is a keynote sign.)

Your Jupiter sign aligns your religious urge with an attitude-motivation. It associates your desire for wealth, prosperity and abundance with traits and qualities and links your religious faith and desire to help and do good with a set disposition and orientation. (If Jupiter is your dominant planet its sign associate is a keynote sign.)

Your Saturn sign associates your security urge with an attitude-motivation. It aligns your desire for safety, protection, work, economy, system, efficiency and organization with traits, qualities, likes and dislikes. It denotes your attitude towards safety, security, buying, saving and preventing loss. (If Saturn is your dominant planet its sign associate is a keynote sign.)

Your Uranus sign links your individualistic urge with an attitude-motivation. It aligns your desire for originality and individualism with an attitude that comprises qualities and natural tendencies. It gives your attitude to difference, independence, progressive change and reform a basic inclination. (If Uranus is your dominant planet its sign associate is a keynote sign.)

Your Neptune sign aligns your utopian urge with an attitude-motivation. It associates your desire to idealize, envision, imagine and scheme with traits, qualities and inclinations. It links your desire to escape reality and daydream with a set orientation and indicates what you're inclined to fantasize about. (If Neptune is your dominant planet its sign associate is a keynote sign.)

Your Pluto sign associates your universal welfare urge with an attitude-motivation. It aligns your desire for group activity, cooperation, teamwork and spiritual endeavor with traits, inclinations and qualities. It indicates your behavior in a situation where you're obliged to contribute to the welfare of a group, team, troop, unit, battalion, company or party. (If Pluto is your dominant planet its sign associate is a keynote sign.)

Your ascendant sign is a keynote sign. It associates your personality with an attitude-motivation. It aligns your persona – the part of you that others observe – with temperament, disposition, traits and qualities. It denotes your personality type, personal tendencies, likes and dislikes and has some influence over your physical structure and appearance.

Your Midheaven sign aligns your public image with an attitude-motivation. It indicates your attitude to public life and links your reputation, honor and public standing with traits and qualities that come to the notice of others. (If your Midheaven is dominant its sign associate is a keynote sign.)

Your best and worst signs

Happiness and contentment are linked to the satisfaction of desire and getting there requires a constructive-proper attitude. Your 'bad' attitudes are conduct indiscretions that are getting it wrong.

Your keynote signs have harmony or discord scores that measure the functional status and efficacy of your core attitude-motivations. They reveal a birth chart potential that you need to know about.

Your keynote signs are a manual of personal attitudes that you can observe and evaluate. A personal best performance requires a right and proper attitude and the harmony or discord scores of your keynote signs allow you to learn what you're doing right and wrong.

Your best sign is the one with the highest harmodyne score. It marks for a constructive, effective attitude that's associated with the not-conscious desire-urge ruled by any planet located in it. But there's likely to be discord amidst the harmony so its harmony won't be absolute.

Your worst sign has the highest discordyne score. It marks for a misguided attitude-motivation that antagonizes the satisfaction of the not-conscious desire corresponding to any planet located in it. But there's likely to be harmony amidst the discord so the discord won't be absolute. Your worst sign is a red-flag marker.

Your worst sign (and any discordant keynote sign) requires your attention. Its misguided attitude-motivation is a liability and causing you pain, discomfort and distress. It's reducing your wellbeing.

You need to know that birth chart predispositions are not fixed. They can be modified and changed. You can change a misguided attitude.

Verify sign data with real-life experience

The only way you can get a handle on birth chart data and know yourself is to carefully observe your own mental and emotional responses to the events and conditions you experience.

You're set in motion by internal drivers and as a child you behaved. You had teachers who graded and disciplined your conduct, but you don't know if you passed a personal 'best-behavior test'. Your behavior – as indicated by your keynote signs – developed through repeated experience and locked in as not-conscious habits. They're with you today.

Your behavior is not a rational set of actions. It's conduct charged with feeling and emotion. There's no thinking going on. It's automatic and habitual. It's not-conscious and that means that you – the rational observer – are not aware of your psychological drivers and their associated attitude-motivations. Your birth chart allows you to solve that problem.

Throughout your childhood you formed and developed attitudes, dispositions, qualities, likes, dislikes and preferences that were specified by your keynote signs. Today you're a bundle of not-conscious keynote habits that define your way of living and doing.

Your attitudes, qualities, likes and dislikes provide the real-life evidence that supports the astro-data pertaining to the zodiac signs in your birth chart.

But you're trying to observe not-conscious behavior traits and qualities and it's not easy. If you've been paying attention you will be able to link your more obvious attitude-motivations with their associated signs. If not the development and application of intrapersonal intelligence will solve that problem. You can learn to closely observe of your own thoughts, feelings and actions.

Know your keynote signs and core attitudes

It's not wise to complicate things or get bogged down in petty detail so... you're a bundle of desires and attitudes. Your lifestyle – what you do and how you do it – embraces thoughts, feelings, desires, attitudes, motives, interests, opinions, likes and dislikes.

The ten dynamic not-conscious urges that get you going (mapped by the planets in your birth chart) are aligned with behavior traits, attitudes and qualities (mapped by their sign associates.)

You're motivated by not-conscious desire. It's the inner spark that gets you moving. You're energized by not-conscious urges. They have to be satisfied. You're motivated to do or have something.

Soul-deep desires propel you into action. Your dominant motivator is most likely the desire-urge mapped by your dominant planet. It's constantly on your mind influencing what you think, say and do. Maybe it's your passion – your primary life interest. It should provide you with motivation, meaning and fulfilment. Its associate sign aligns its expression with attitude.

Your keynote signs allow you to understand your conduct. They put you in the picture in regard to your attitude-motivations and special qualities. You have a keynote sign profile. It defines a set of attitude-motivations that you were destined to form and develop. The signs associated with the dominant planet, Sun, Moon, Mercury and ascendant in your birth chart are your keynote signs.

Your keynote signs detail a personal reality that is predisposed to develop. Your character is ingrained with attitude and it's likely you're a bundle of good-proper and bad-misguided attitudes.

Knowledge of your keynote signs allows you to understand your core attitudes. Their harmony or discord scores measure their efficacy. You need to know your best sign. It marks for an effective attitude and proper conduct. You need to know your worst sign. It marks for a misguided, ineffective attitude and improper conduct. It's a red-flag marker.

A high-d discord keynote sign denotes a potential to develop its misguided traits and qualities. As behavior indiscretions they'll causes you problems. Your job is to mend and harmonize your discordant bad-attitudes and when you do you'll reduce your potential to experience misfortune and up your potential to experience happiness, success and personal wellbeing.

Your keynote signs define your mental-emotional responses to events and situations. You're a bundle of habitual attitudes that were formed and developed through regular similar experience. Your objective is to ensure that your attitudinal behavior is constructive and effective.

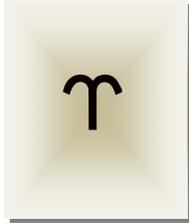

You're a bundle of motives too. They provide you with a reason for taking action. Your behavior is primarily motivated by feelings and emotions. You act on your feelings. They're attitudes that initiate action. Feelings of pleasure motivate you to do what you like and enjoy.

As your abilities develop you expect a particular level of performance from yourself and you expect this performance to be rewarded in some way. So, you're motivated to get these rewards: Praise for achievement, joy from socializing, money for work and victory from competition or conflict.

You can view your birth chart as a personal website and by clicking on your keynote signs you can learn about your attitude-motivations. We advise you to know and understand your keynote signs. So, click away.

The light of personal truth will set you free from the doubt, uncertainty and confusion of just not knowing.

Aries: It takes the lead and trail blazes

The constellation Aries pictures a ram. Its symbol denotes the face and curling horns of a ram. Its coded message reveals that Aries people charge at life employing primitive fighting instincts and original thinking in all they do.

Key points

Dominant idea is I am

I am expresses a self-assured, keen, optimistic attitude

Best quality is leadership

Worst quality is officiousness

The Aries I am attitude is enthusiastic, gung-ho, on the go, impulsive, rash, self-reliant, independent, self-propelled, enterprising, pioneering, confident, ambitious, competitive, headstrong and impatient.

These emotion charged attributes define its I am way of living.

If Aries in your birth chart is a keynote sign or otherwise prominent its I am attitude will be a conspicuous behavior trait.

Aries and you

Aries sparkles with can-do enthusiasm. Its eagerness can't wait. It's a go-getter that takes action. It's a doer, not a viewer. It's an independent self-starter that moves at a breakneck pace. It goes from zero to 100 mph in 5 seconds, throws down the gauntlet, wants fast results and is ever hopeful that things will turn out for the best. Every day seems new to Aries.

Aries is self-sufficient and self-reliant: It has a belief in its own ability to carry out a plan and do what needs to be done. It responds to a challenge, takes the lead, trail-blazes, treads new paths and tries new things. It gets things done.

Competition and the need for action bring out the best in Aries. It thrives on the zest of competition. It's ambitious, needs room to progress, overworks, is very inclined to bite off more than it can chew and usually has several irons in the fire at the same time.

Aries has creative power. It's a realist that reduces complexity to simple elements. Its impulsivity is guided by intellect but its focus can diffuse and lose interest making finishing a job, project or assignment a real chore. And it can rush into controversy before examining all the evidence and cannot admit when it is wrong.

Aries isn't influenced by precedent or environment and has little interest in the opinions of others or their advice and/or suggestions. It's socially lively, rash in love and can talk its way out of tricky situations.

Aries bestows the quality of leadership. It has executive ability and a dauntless pioneering spirit. It takes the lead and pioneers new fields of endeavor, new ways and better methods. It plays a leadership role and directs, motivates and inspires others. It can take to politics.

Aries likes responding to a challenge; the zest of competition; taking the initiative; starting new projects; immediacy; fast results; personal control; doing its own thing; and freedom from constraints.

Aries dislikes being told what to do; taking second place; the back seat; relying on others; a slow pace; people who drag the chain; being kept waiting; restriction; meetings; red-tape; bureaucracy; too much complex detail; high society; false social standards; tradition; public opinion and laziness.

If Aries in your birth chart is a keynote sign and harmonious your effective I am attitude, that's inclined to be enthusiastic, enterprising, independent, optimistic and taking the lead, will benefit your family life, social relations, work-life and personal wellbeing.

Ineffective-misguided Aries

On the down side Aries is impulsive, rash, headstrong, impetuous, impatient, intrusive, bossy and self-opinionated. It bites off more than it can chew, has too many irons in the fire, makes rash statements, rushes into controversy, cannot admit when it is wrong and meddles in other people's lives.

At its worst Aries is officious. It butts in and interferes unduly in the affairs of others, but this misguided intrusive meddling only results in personal, work and social problems.

If Aries is a keynote sign and discordant your ineffective I am attitude, that's inclined to be impulsive, impetuous, rash, overenthusiastic, overambitious, and/or meddlesome, will defeat your purpose. Its misguided and harming your family life, social relations, work-life and wellbeing.

You need to assess your I am behavior to determine what you're doing wrong, and change your misguided headstrong-intrusive attitude.

The desire-urge of any planet in Aries has a self-assured I am attitude and an enthusiastic-impulsive motivation.

Aries: Lessons to learn

**Capitalize on your pioneering spirit and concentrate your powers of leadership into your chosen field of endeavor and/or personal interests. **Lead by example. **The art of finishing things and closure – finish what you start. **Impulse control – patience is a virtue. **The principles of non-interference – butt out of controversy. **Only give advice when it's asked for. **And take time out to relax and watch grass grow.

Taurus: Its pitch is for routine and stability

The constellation Taurus pictures a bull. Its symbol denotes the face and horns of a bull. Its coded message reveals that Taurus people are careful, plodding, patient, unwavering, diligent and quiet. They are slow to anger but furious when aroused.

Key points

---

Dominant idea is I have

I have expresses a practical, reliable, possessive attitude

Best quality is stability

Worst quality is obstinacy

The Taurus I have attitude is down-to-earth, pragmatic, industrious, self-reliant, dependable, purposeful, deliberate, persistent, thorough, methodical, consistent, patient, steady, reserved, obedient, efficient and stable.

These emotion charged attributes define its I have way of living.

If Taurus in your birth chart is a keynote sign or otherwise prominent its I have attitude will be a conspicuous behavior trait.

Taurus and you

Taurus is a paragon of stability. It's steady, firm and dependable. Its stability tends towards long lasting social relationships, consistent behavior, well-thought-out decisions, moderate mood swings and professional success.

Taurus views life in terms of work, money, possession, occupancy and ownership. It's very determined and motivated to have, own and possess things.

Taurus lives and works to set routines and its practical nature prefers the status-quo. It firmly resists change and is not influenced by what other people advise or suggest. It can get stuck in a rut and struggles with major change especially if it's enforced.

Taurus is a reliable, industrious worker. It takes orders readily, works at a steady pace, can't be rushed, always gets the job done and is steadfast and consistent under stress.

Taurus lacks the courage to take risks. Its patience can wait and wait for plans, projects and endeavors to bear fruit and mature. And it's a warm friend and an unforgiving enemy.

Taurus has a talent for endurance, consistency and patience. Its strength lies in its self-reliance, steadiness and durability. That's what it does best. Its I have attitude injects practicality, thoroughness and efficiency and its pitch for routine-stability defines its lifestyle.

Taurus likes consistency; permanence; being instructed; working at a steady pace; earning and handling money; comfort; quality; set routines; thoroughness; finishing what it starts; leaving well enough alone; emotional security; making the beautiful useful; and doing essential things for others.

Taurus dislikes unnecessary change; changing methods and habits; working under pressure; taking risks; being rushed or pushed by a time constraint; time stress and taking the initiative.

If Taurus in your birth chart is a keynote sign and harmonious your effective I have attitude, that's inclined to be stable, practical, industrious, self-reliant, dependable, efficient, reliable and/or patient, will benefit your family life, social relations, work-life and personal wellbeing.

Ineffective-misguided Taurus

On the downside Taurus is inflexible, stern, sullen, acquisitive and furious when angered. Its timidity can't take the initiative. It maintains stability through stubborn inflexibility and won't budge even refusing to make necessary, practical lifestyle change. And it easily develops a slavish adherence to set daily routines that become boring and monotonous.

At its worst Taurus is unyielding and obstinate. It stubbornly refuses to change its thinking and ways, but its misguided obstinacy only results in personal, work and social problems.

If Taurus is a keynote sign and discordant your ineffective I have attitude, that's inclined to be obstinate, inflexible, stubborn, sullen, timid and/or unable to take the initiative, will defeat your purpose. It's misguided and harming your family life, social relations, work-life and wellbeing.

You need to assess your I have behavior to determine what you're doing wrong, and change your misguided inflexible-stubborn attitude.

The desire-urge of any planet in Taurus has a possessive I have attitude and a practical-stable motivation.

Taurus: Lessons to learn

**Not changing is taking the easy way out – there's no energy used and no action. **Stubbornness is anti-progress. **By recognizing truth and justice you can get rid of old worn-out methods and useless ideas. **Capitalize on your stability and employ your practicality, efficiency and endurance to help others. **Only stick with the status quo when it satisfies all your objectives. **And add some harmless novelty to your daily life to break up set routines.

Gemini: It's chatty, clever and very versatile

The constellation Gemini pictures twins, Castor and Pollux. Its symbol – two perpendicular lines – denotes the twins. Its coded message reveals that Gemini people engage in dual living. Reason and intuition feature in their daily life and doing.

Key points

---

Dominant idea is I think

I think expresses a restless, contemplative, talkative attitude

Best quality is versatility

Worst quality is changeableness

The Gemini I think attitude is thoughtful, intuitive, mentally alert, academic, scholarly, informative, chatty, fluent, skilful, enterprising, flexible, versatile, dexterous, adroit, sensitive, adaptable and changeable.

These emotion charged attributes define its I think way of living.

If Gemini in your birth chart is a keynote sign or otherwise prominent its I think attitude will be a conspicuous behavior trait.

Gemini and you

Gemini is an intellectual dynamo. It has a craving for mental experience. It's an information hunter gatherer and a new ideas magnate. It's a thinker that keeps up to date; moves with the times; asks why; and mentally assesses daily life providing a verbal or written report. It's always on the alert for new info and its thinking paves the way for better ways of doing things. It exemplifies reason and intuition.

Gemini is enterprising. It's capable of doing many things well and is not influenced by what others suggest or advice. It's very clever, multi-skilled and can lead a double-life pursuing two different occupations at the same time.

Mental restlessness impairs Gemini's capacity to concentrate. It has a restless roving for new experiences; over thinks this, that and the other; can lack mental application; is prone to waver when making important decisions and can put its need for emotional attachment on the back burner.

To hold its interest and prevent boredom Gemini needs a variety of companions, interests and hobbies. It easily adjusts to new situations as they arise and its intellectual, rather than sentimental, attachment to people, occupations and methods easily escapes disagreeable circumstance by moving on.

Gemini gives the gift of versatility and the ability to learn and do many things well. It has a talent for enterprise, acquiring information, cleverness, creative thinking, writing, talking and dexterity. It's an informative conversationalist and makes a good teacher and/or investigative reporter.

Gemini likes reading; learning; pondering; mental challenges; thinking; keeping up to date; sensible discussion; informing others; a variety of companions; movement; travelling and change.

Gemini dislikes daily routine; domestic chores; boring conversations; meaningless chit-chat; small talk; hum-drum monotony; stagnation; time constraints; restrictions; and feeling obligated.

If Gemini is a keynote sign and harmonious your effective I think attitude, that's inclined to be clever, versatile, informative, skillful, dexterous and adaptable to changing circumstance, will benefit your family life, social relations, work-life and personal wellbeing.

Ineffective-misguided Gemini

On the downside Gemini is mentally restless, indecisive, loquacious, nervous and emotionally detached. It's a long-winded mega-babbler that can't stop talking. It over thinks problems; replays thoughts over and over again; vacillates; is unable to make a firm decision; changes its viewpoint; and sees change as the best solution to every disagreeable situation.

At its worst Gemini is changeable. Rather than tolerate painful jobs, people, partners, lovers and places it simply leaves and moves away, but this misguided shifting only results in personal, work and social problems.

If Gemini is a keynote sign and discordant your ineffective I think attitude, that's inclined to be restless, nervous, distracted, changeable, over-talkative and/or unable to concentrate, will defeat your purpose. Its misguided and harming your family life, social relations, work-life and wellbeing.

You need to assess your I think behavior to determine what you're doing wrong, and change your misguided distracted-changeable attitude.

The desire-urge of any planet in Gemini has a versatile I think attitude and a mentally restless motivation.

Gemini: Lessons to learn

**Meaningless restless change is meaningless. **Change your attitude rather than your ideas, opinions, partners, friends, job or occupation. **Protracted concentration and the skill of focusing your thoughts into a single line of endeavor and giving it all you've got. **Capitalize on your versatility. **Make your conversations informative and useful. **And enjoy your thinking.

Cancer: It's a sensitive, emotional homemaker

The constellation Cancer pictures a crab. Its symbol denotes the claws of a crab moving towards each other. Its coded message reveals that Cancer people carry out their own ideas in a round-about tenacious way. They are homemakers who are greatly influenced by their surroundings and moods.

Key points

---

Dominant idea is I feel

I feel expresses a sensitive, emotional, timid attitude

Best quality is tenacity

Worst quality is touchiness

The Cancer I feel attitude is family oriented, impressionable, emotionally attached, possessive, sentimental, sympathetic, protective, unassertive, retiring, reflective, retentive, secretive, moody and tenacious.

These emotion charged attributes define its I feel way of living.

If Cancer in your birth chart is a keynote sign or otherwise prominent its I feel attitude will be a conspicuous behavior trait.

Cancer and you

Cancer is powered by feelings. It maintains 24/7 feeling contact with its local surroundings and has a talent for deep feeling, emotional attachment and sensitivity. It absorbs and assimilates the people and places it contacts and feels the pain, hurt and misfortune of others. It's spurred into action by its feelings, moods and emotional yens.

Cancer is an ocean of emotion – a homemaker that's motivated by family.

Cancer is moody, clingy and impressionable. It's strongly attracted to people and beliefs that lift its mood; responds to kindness and praise; and enjoys a friendly environment that has a peaceful, calm atmosphere.

Bad news, criticism and offensive remarks distress Cancer greatly. It's easily upset by harsh rudeness and a fear of ridicule can prevent it from asserting itself. It can take offence when none was intended and can crack under cruel criticism.

Cancer does its own thing and has little interest in what others suggest and advise. It's naturally inclined to take an indirect approach. By sidling up obliquely it does things in a round-about way. And its reflective quality easily trips back to memories of the past.

Cancer's bestows the gift of tenacity. Its strength lies in its steadfast allegiance. It resolutely adheres to family, friends, belief systems and other emotional treasures and won't let go.

Cancer likes warm, friendly surroundings; a sympathetic atmosphere; kindness; approval; someone to cling to; being needed; established customs; publicity; and observing and talking about the weak points of others.

Cancer dislikes tense, forceful situations; cold-static environments; bad news; noisy, rude people; ridicule; criticism; taking the initiative; confinement to a single environment; and ruthless competition.

If Cancer in your birth chart is a keynote sign and harmonious your effective I feel attitude, that's inclined to be tenacious, sensitive, impressionable, reflective and/or emotionally attached to family, friends and beliefs, will benefit your family life, social relations, work-life and personal wellbeing.

Ineffective-misguided Cancer

On the down side Cancer lacks assertiveness, fears ridicule, craves sympathy, is overly dependent, has difficulty letting go of harmful emotional attachments and holds pity-parties for one. It's oversensitive, takes offense when none is intended, easily distressed by bad news and moody. Each day is viewed as an emotional tragedy.

At its worst Cancer is touchy. It's thin-skinned and easily slighted and offended but this misguided oversensitivity only results in personal, work and social problems.

If Cancer in your birth chart is a keynote sign and discordant your ineffective I feel attitude, that's inclined to be oversensitive, moody, fearful of ridicule, timid, hesitant, clingy, and/or touchy, will defeat your purpose. It's misguided and harming your family life, social relations, work-life and wellbeing.

You need to assess your I feel behavior to determine what you're doing wrong, and change your misguided oversensitive-touchy attitude.

The desire-urge of any planet in Cancer has an emotional I feel attitude and a sensitive-tenacious motivation.

Cancer: Lessons to learn

**Most people are sympathetic and friendly and those that aren't, aren't worth knowing. **Choose your associates with great discretion and seek those who lift your mood. **Enjoy your pleasant moods. **Let go of people and ideas that have passed their used-by date. **Capitalize on your tenacity. **Give circumstance a sensible, objective appraisal. **And assert yourself when beneficial opportunities come along.

Leo: It's confident, resolute and kind-hearted

The constellation Leo pictures a Lion. Its symbol denotes a cobra. Its coded message reveals that Leo people give a courageous, fearless and passionate performance on the stage of life. Their sense of pride balks at pettiness and meanness.

Key points

---

Dominant idea is I will

I will expresses an up-beat, proud, purposeful attitude

Best quality is kindness

Worst quality is domination

The Leo I will attitude is confident, strong-willed, determined, deliberate, ambitious, enthusiastic, passionate, optimistic, considerate, proud, honest, faithful, generous, warmhearted and kind.

These emotion charged attributes define its I will way of living

If Leo in your birth chart is a keynote sign or otherwise prominent its I will attitude will be a conspicuous behavior trait.

Leo and you

Leo is a class act. It's motivated to think big and put on a grand show. It's a pillar of strength and a faithful supporter. It injects support, inspiration and encouragement; is generous with friends and associates; holds on; doesn't know when to let go; and is not inclined to stoop to pettiness or meanness.

Leo has fixed intentions and a great faith and trust in other people. It moves fast; gets things done and is determined to finish whatever it starts. It yens for personal glory and has a fondness for children.

Leo has real courage and a daily resolve not to quit. It's motivated by a single minded unwavering focus and a strong sense of purpose. It modifies its behavior in response to the opinions of others and is generous and good-hearted. In love its emotional, passionate heart rules its pragmatic, thoughtful head.

Leo is much better at giving rather than taking orders; works hard to maintain its chosen lifestyle; and it's faith and trust in other people has them trying to live up to its expectations.

Leo expects good notices and critical acclaim. It's a show pony that views each day as an opportunity to give a splendid, but sometimes pretentious, performance that deserves a standing ovation.

Leo has a talent for kindness, trust and spectacular display. Its strength lies in its determination, confidence and consideration. It kindly gives of its time, energy, talent and money. It likes to help. Acts of kindness and generosity reward Leo with the praise it craves.

Leo likes managing things; being in charge; a position of authority; taking action; thinking big; receiving attention, praise and/or flattery; entertaining others and helping.

Leo dislikes being told what to do; taking orders; other people's opinions; playing second fiddle; compromising; undignified behavior; pettiness; meanness; disloyalty; a fall in rank or demotion; being corrected, criticised and ignored; and self analysis.

If Leo in your birth chart is a keynote sign and harmonious your constructive I will attitude, that's inclined to be kind, generous, ambitious, determined, faithful, honest and/or enthusiastic, will benefit your family life, social relations, work-life and personal wellbeing.

Ineffective-misguided Leo

On the downside Leo is attention-seeking, overconfident, boastful and flamboyant. It's a show-off. It blows its own trumpet and tells other people what to do. It's a bossy, opinionated, control-freak. It overestimates personal ability and expects the top job and/or positional power without the necessary expertise, qualification or experience.

At its worst Leo is dominating and dogmatic. It exercises undue personal control and authority, but its misguided domination only results in personal, work and social problems.

If Leo is a keynote sign and discordant your ineffective I will attitude, that's inclined to be domineering, bossy, dogmatic, boastful, overconfident and/or pretentious will defeat your purpose. It's misguided and harming your family life, social relations, work-life and wellbeing.

You need to assess your I will behavior to determine what you're doing wrong, and change your misguided overconfident-domineering attitude.

The desire-urge of any planet in Leo has a determined I will attitude and an enthusiastic-confident motivation.

Leo: Lessons to learn

**Capitalize on your kindness, strength of purpose and faith in other people. **Kindness is an action, not a demand or order. **Be reasonable and don't expect too much (or the impossible) from others. **Realistically assess personal ability. **You'll be liked when you don't demand and dominate. **And the highest glory goes to those who serve best.

Virgo: Its forte is objective, detailed analysis

The constellation Virgo pictures a maid holding two ears of wheat. Its symbol denotes a sheath of wheat. Its coded message reveals that Virgo people employ their keen powers of discrimination to reap a rich harvest of knowledge.

Key points

---

Dominant idea is I analyze

I analyze expresses a serious, logical, fastidious attitude

Best quality is analysis

Worst quality is criticism

---

The Virgo I analyze attitude is practical, mentally active, contemplative, factual, discriminating, meticulous, detailed, precise, logical, industrious, methodical, studious, scientific, modest and fussy.

These emotion charged attributes define its I analyze way of living.

If Virgo in your birth chart is a keynote sign or otherwise prominent its I analyze attitude will be a conspicuous behavior trait.

Virgo and you

Virgo is the analyst. It's motivated to discern, discriminate and critically examine this, that and the other. It has an eagle eye for detail, a flair for finding minute faults, and a detailed sense of recollection.

Virgo endows the quality of objective, detailed analysis. Its strength lies in its discrimination and attention to detail. It easily detects the flaws and weaknesses in plans, proposals, blueprints, models, policies and procedures and knows what needs to be done to strengthen them.

Clear analysis defines Virgo's thinking. Its focus is on objective, observable facts and its know-it-all factual intelligence is encyclopedic. It has a talent for precision and accuracy. It reads the small print and carefully assesses every minute detail. It's motivated to be of service to others; takes orders readily; needs a timeframe; is thorough; has an industrious work ethic; and likes to complete projects.

Virgo has a realistic approach to daily life. It presents a logical argument and prefers arbitration to combat. It easily adapts to the demands of environment; and modifies its behavior to accommodate the suggestions of others.

Virgo's devotion to endless detail can cause it to lose sight of the big picture; its tendency to over intellectualize reduces its capacity to feel emotion; its reserved detachment is inclined to keep people at arm's length; and its fussiness tends to dislike many things. It can view daily life and its imperfections and shortcomings as something to be examined, dissected, scrubbed down and cleaned-up. It easily develops obsessive cleaning rituals.

Virgo likes learning; concentrating; all the details; collecting/classifying data; tabulating facts; research work; an orderly/organized atmosphere; working alone; tidiness; making complex things simple; common sense; punctuality; collecting little things; and subdued effects.

Virgo dislikes a cluttered/messy work place; sloppy work; loose ends; theories; assumptions; conjecture; untidy thinking; synthesis; pressures; being rushed; waste; extravagance; immodesty; the limelight; taking a sick day from work; and dirty dishes.

If Virgo in your birth chart is a keynote sign and harmonious your effective I analyze attitude, that's inclined to be logical, discriminating, detailed, discerning and/or industrious, will benefit your family life, social relations, work-life and personal wellbeing.

Ineffective-misguided Virgo

On the down side Virgo is fussy, fastidious, petty, trivial, disparaging, skeptical and unsympathetic. It's not inclined to give praise or compliments or show sympathy or compassion. And its motivation for close examination and minute dissection easily transforms into nitpicking and fault-finding.

At its worst Virgo is critical and demeaning. It criticizes, nitpicks, finds fault and judges unfavorably, but its misguided criticism only results in personal, work and social problems.

If Virgo is a keynote sign and discordant your ineffective I analyze attitude, that's inclined to be critical, pedantic, fussy, petty, trivial and/or insensitive, will defeat your purpose. Its misguided and harming your family life, social relations, work-life and wellbeing.

You need to assess your I analyze behavior to determine what you're doing wrong, and change your misguided petty-critical attitude.

The desire-urge of any planet in Virgo has a discerning I analyze attitude and a sensible-practical motivation.

Virgo: Lessons to learn

**Capitalize on your powers of analysis. **Over analysis can result in analysis paralysis. **Direct your keen discrimination into discerning good points and self-improvement. **Criticism won't win friends or influence people. **Avoid getting bogged down in petty detail. **Give praise and/or sympathy when it's called for. **And enjoy your analytical thinking and interesting ideas.

Libra: It's evenhanded, fair and just

The constellation Libra pictures the scales. Its symbol denotes a feminine (crooked) and a masculine (straight) line symbolizing union. Its coded message reveals that Libra people seek balance and harmony in their daily living and whenever they're thrown off-balance they quickly establish mental equilibrium.

Key points

---

Dominant idea is I balance

I balance expresses a courteous, amiable, impartial attitude

Best quality is affability

Worst quality is approbation

The Libra I balance attitude to life is sociable, polite, friendly, evenhanded, even-tempered, easygoing, accommodating, placid, lenient, neat, particular, sensitive, sympathetic and fond of refined pleasures.

These emotion charged attributes define its way of living.

If Libra in your birth chart is a keynote sign or otherwise prominent its I balance attitude will be a conspicuous behavior trait.

Libra and you

Libra bestows the gift of affability. It's skilled in the art of pleasing. It's well-mannered, friendly, even-tempered, easygoing, sociable, obliging and eager to please. It loves peace and harmony; prefers the easier types of work: craves friendly companionship; and finds it very hard to say 'no'.

Libra blends the social and practical. It is not a loner. It's motivated to establish balance between the serious business of work and the joys of family life and what's fair and just in a complex modern world driven by competition and selfish advantage.

Libra is evenhanded and just. It has an evenhanded sense of proportion and a balanced point of view that is grounded in thoughts and feelings that weigh up both sides of a matter. It emphasizes reciprocity, impartiality, consensus and justice.

Libra has a talent for fairness and equity. It plays by the rules and seeks peaceful solutions that are fair. If they're not you'll hear its mantra: 'That's not fair'. Fairness indicates equal shares and equality.

Libra is not good with conflict. It prefers arbitration to combat; has a talent for minimizing dissension and disagreement; and is motivated to establish a harmonious intellectual-social atmosphere.

Libra is a perfectionist. It craves understanding and is easily swayed and influenced by flattery and false praise. And it's thrown off balance by social strife, discord, ugliness, coarseness, rudeness and bad manners but quickly re-establishes internal poise and emotional equilibrium.

Libra likes harmony; peace and quiet; companionship; a partner to share with; social outings; courtesy; taking things as they come; arbitration; fair play; fair outcomes; power-sharing; and working on behalf of others.

Libra dislikes strife; conflict; confrontation; hostility; injustice; inequality; prejudice; harsh words; crudity; ugliness; rudeness; hurting people's feelings; saying 'no'; being disliked; hard physical work; dirty work; practicing; and solitude.

If Libra in your birth chart is a keynote sign and harmonious your effective I balance attitude, that's inclined to be courteous, fair, evenhanded, impartial, unbiased, equitable and/or just, will benefit your family life, social relations, work-life and personal wellbeing

Ineffective-misguided Libra

On the downside Libra is frivolous, superficial, indolent, work-shy and help-less. It's a 24/7 pleasure-leisure seeker that's easily lead, swayed by flattery and permissive. Its very agreeable, over compliance just accepts things as they are and won't say 'no'.

At its worst Libra has an inordinate love of approbation. It craves social acceptance and endorsement, but this misguided approval seeking only results in personal, work and social problems.

If Libra is a keynote sign and discordant your ineffective I balance attitude, that's inclined to be carefree, lazy, easily lead, pleasure-seeking, obliging and/or approval seeking, will defeat your purpose. Its misguided and harming your family life, social relations, work-life and wellbeing.

You need to assess your I balance behavior to determine what you're doing wrong, and change your misguided over-compliant-easily lead attitude.

The desire-urge of any planet in Libra has an impartial I balance attitude and a fair-evenhanded motivation.

Libra: Lessons to learn

**Choose companions who lift your mood. **People will like you better when you render firm decisions and stop being a people pleaser. **Don't accept the questionable conduct of others. **Capitalize on your affability. **Don't fall for flattery. **Render firm decisions. **Develop refusal skills and say 'no'. **Don't dabble or diversify. **Specialize in a single endeavour and gain high efficiency. **Ease and comfort won't produce worthwhile self-development. **And stop apologizing – it probably wasn't your fault.

Scorpio: It's intense, skilful and determined

The constellation Scorpio pictures a scorpion. Its symbol denotes a sheaf of wheat with a scorpion's tail. Its coded message reveals that Scorpio people have intense sexual natures and keen fighting instincts. The rules of attack include underhanded tactics.

Key points

---

Dominant idea is I desire

I desire expresses a reserved, unyielding, emotional attitude

Best quality is resourcefulness

Worst quality is troublesomeness

The Scorpio I desire attitude is intense, emotional, energetic, determined, relentless, resourceful, skilful, thoughtful, scientific, investigative, thorough, ingenious, secretive, reserved and jealous.

These emotion charged attributes define the Scorpio I desire way of living.

If Scorpio in your birth chart is a keynote sign or otherwise prominent its I desire attitude will be a conspicuous behavior trait.

Scorpio and you

Scorpio is still water that runs deep. It's an emotionally intense dynamo – a sex machine that's motivated by powerful passions and constant cravings. It knows what it wants and how to get it.

Scorpio has a single-minded sense of purpose. Nothing is done halfway. Energy is concentrated. Intense desire does things with all its might and when it kicks-in it's all systems go, no matter the cost. Its do or die approach never gives up.

Scorpio has a talent for ingenuity and a genuine sense of duty. It exerts tremendous pressure on its local environment, resists change, stays put and is faithful to its obligations. It has a solid determination and feels that others should live by its standard of justice and morality.

Scorpio has strong likes and dislikes. It's emotionally possessive, never forgets a hurt and is naturally inclined to say and do things that are troublesome. It relentlessly attacks opponents and enemies.

Scorpio modifies its behavior to accommodate the advice of others. It's secretive and reserved and keeps things to itself. It's not intrusive. It works steadily and persistently – it isn't fast – and its investigative attribute likes to learn.

Scorpio bestows the quality of resourcefulness. It can make the most of any situation. It can grapple with very difficult, disagreeable tasks and effectively copes with set-backs. Resourceful thinking seeks solutions to impossible problems and if plan A fails there's plan B, C and D ready to go. Nothing is too hard.

Scorpio likes full responsibility; proper conduct; a difficult challenge to grapple with; working alone; overcoming obstacles; solving problems; puzzles; the background; the unknown; and secrets.

Scorpio dislikes asking questions; familiarity; frivolity; superficiality; defeat; publicity; vanity; dabblers; compromising; and taking second place.

If Scorpio in your birth chart is a keynote sign and harmonious your effective I desire attitude, that's inclined to be dutiful, resourceful, determined, thoughtful, thorough and/or reserved, will benefit your family life, social relations, work-life and personal wellbeing.

Ineffective-misguided Scorpio

On the downside Scorpio is jealous, cruel, cold, calculating, fanatical, suspicious, possessive, secretive, vengeful and troublesome. It questions people's motives; demands proper, dutiful behavior; and hurts friends and loved ones with its sting of jealousy.

At its worst Scorpio is difficult and bothersome. It's a trouble-maker, but this misguided malicious mischief making only results in personal, work and social problems.

If Scorpio is a keynote sign and discordant your ineffective I desire attitude, that's inclined to be jealous, fanatical, resentful, hurtful and/or troublesome will defeat your purpose. It's misguided and harming your family life, social relations, work-life and wellbeing.

You need to assess your I desire behavior to determine what you're doing wrong, and change your misguided hurtful-troublesome attitude.

The desire-urge of any planet in Scorpio has an intense I desire attitude and a reserved-determined motivation.

Scorpio: Lessons to learn

**Solve your own problems and overcome your own obstacles rather than be a troublesome trouble-maker. **Help rather than hinder associates. **Be content with second place. **Broaden your mental outlook. **Ask questions – it's not a sign of inferiority. **Capitalize on your resourcefulness and capacity to deal with difficult tasks. **And put your intense emotions to work doing things that benefit loved ones and friends.

Sagittarius: It's playful, generous and loyal

The constellation Sagittarius pictures an archer. Its symbol denotes the archer's arrow. Its coded message reveals that Sagittarian people make observations that hit the mark. They love the outdoors and are quick to fight for the rights of others.

Key points

---

Dominant idea is I see

I see expresses a buoyant, optimistic, candid attitude

Best quality is loyalty

Worst quality is sportiveness

The Sagittarius I am attitude is enthusiastic, outgoing, high-spirited, lively, ambitious, decisive, honest, philosophical, optimistic, charitable, generous, frank, outspoken, patriotic, conservative and loyal.

These emotion charged attributes define its I see way of living.

If Sagittarius in your birth chart is a keynote sign or otherwise prominent its I see attitude will be a conspicuous behavior trait.

Sagittarius and you

Sagittarius is a game player and life is the game. Its aim is to win and it measures success – the hazard – by the number of goals it scores. It exudes lively, high-spirited playfulness, is boisterous, and keen on the sporting life.

Sagittarius has a dual nature. It has strong animal and high noble tendencies and requires physical exercise, fresh air and outdoor recreation as it's inclined to burn up vitality through over-intensity.

Sagittarius is grounded in the idea that things must be comprehended and this prompts a search for knowledge and understanding. It requires ample mental activity; experiences 'I see' enlightenment moments; has a talent for instant understanding and hitting the mark; and needs to keep occupied to control its restlessness and impatience.

Sagittarius has a strong leaning towards religion and philosophy. It's charitable; defends the shortcomings of others; and supports the underdog. It's very conservative and its migratory nature sees long journeys and overseas travel as the best way to broaden its mental horizon.

Sagittarius can give and take orders. It's prompt and decisive in action; gets a job done fast; modifies its behavior to oblige the suggestions of others; prefers effectiveness to elegance; and gets caught out if it attempts deceit.

Sagittarius bestows the quality of loyalty. It's loyal to friends and colleagues. It's faithful and patriotic and has commitment and allegiance to relationships and causes. But it's prone to engage in morbid self-examination and gloomy introspection and can view its own life in the worst possible light.

Sagittarius likes making quick decisions; mental activity; philosophy, effectiveness; hitting the target; playing games; physical exercise; sport; the outdoors; freedom to move; and traveling.

Sagittarius dislikes avoiding the issue; beating around the bush; political correctness; diplomacy; tact; closed in spaces; formal etiquette; confinement; restriction and disappointment.

If Sagittarius in your birth chart is a keynote sign and harmonious your effective I see attitude, that's inclined to be enthusiastic, loyal, candid, decisive, jovial, charitable and/or supportive of the underdog, will benefit your family life, social relations, work-life and personal wellbeing.

Ineffective-misguided Sagittarius

On the down side Sagittarius is boisterous, disorderly, undiplomatic, tactless, blunt, outspoken, gregarious, wasteful and extravagant. When alone it's prone to engage in morbid self-examination but when out and about it's a prankster that engages in horse play and practical jokes.

At its worst Sagittarius is sportive. It's a sports nut and/or gym-junkie. It has an excessive interest in games and physical exercise, but this misguided high-spirited playfulness only results in personal, work and social problems.

If Sagittarius is a keynote sign and discordant your ineffective I see attitude, that's inclined to be tactless, blunt, boisterous, wasteful and/or disorderly will defeat your purpose. It's misguided and harming your family life, social relations, work-life and wellbeing.

You need to assess your I see behavior to determine what you're doing wrong, and change your misguided tactless-boisterous attitude.

The desire-urge of any planet in Sagittarius has a decisive I see 'got it' attitude and an enthusiastic-loyal motivation.

Sagittarius: Lessons to learn

**Life isn't a spectator sport. **Playing is better than viewing. **Your life is a game where success is the hazard. **Play your loyalty card and contribute to the wellbeing of others and your personal success. **Avoid offending friends and colleagues. **Curb your outspoken bluntness – use a little tact. **And relieve high nervous tension with sport, exercise and/or outdoor recreation.

Capricorn: It's practical, patient and ambitious

The constellation Capricorn pictures a goat. Its symbol denotes a twisted circuitous line denoting the path the goat takes in life. Its coded message reveals that Capricorn people climb life's mountain by taking advantage of every foothold and opportunity. They can overcome insurmountable obstacles.

Key points

---

Dominant idea is I use

I use expresses a cautious, pragmatic, tactful attitude

Best quality is diplomacy

Worst is deceitfulness

The Capricorn I use attitude is practical, down-to-earth, ambitious, persistent, patient, plodding, methodical, thoughtful, serious, reflective, dependable, organized, functional and purposeful.

These emotion charged attributes define its I use way of living.

If Capricorn in your birth chart is a keynote sign or otherwise prominent its I use attitude will be a conspicuous behavior trait.

Capricorn and you

Capricorn is ambitious for professional success and hungry for honor. It's motivated to climb life's mountain and come what may make it to the pent-house suite. Its step by step practical persistence overcomes impossible obstacles; and it measures personal success by wealth and worldly station. It has a special knack for practical utilization; and in its daily ascent up the ladder of life it uses the people and resources to useful advantage.

Capricorn has a talent for tact, discretion and negotiation. Its patient nature has no need for haste or urgency. It won't make hasty decisions or waste money. It's reflective and has good self-control. It gains by cunning rather than force and is inclined to take other people's problems to heart and carry their burdens. Heavy responsibilities can get it down.

Aquarius and you

Aquarius is the epitome of knowledge and intelligence. It moves with the modern, progressive intellectual currents. It's up to date, even ahead of the times, and motivated to know absolutely everything about absolutely everything. Facts must be grounded in scientific research.

Aquarius is friendly but impersonal. It's self-sufficient and not inclined to follow the crowd. It modifies its behavior to accommodate the suggestions of others; can work alone; and learns by listening rather than reading.

Aquarius has an innate understanding of human nature. It reads people like a book and knows just what to say and do to create a given effect. It seeks personal understanding and often lives a life that goes contrary to expectation. Its inherent fixity of purpose neutralizes restless tendencies. It's determined to finish what it starts – gets the job done – but procrastination and theoretical discussion can slow the practical work process.

Aquarius is inclined to develop an interest in religion, politics, education, psychology and/or astrology. It's a democracy, liberty and human rights advocate. It's public-spirited. It's a humanitarian that's motivated by the social-human aspects of a matter rather than its personal implications. It has a talent for understanding all the factors related to a particular course of action and how everything and everyone will be affected by it.

Aquarius bestows the quality of altruism. It's a progressive altruist in search of a worthwhile cause. Its 'do unto others as you would have them do unto you' creed is the perfect moral behavior. Its selfless intelligence seeks best solutions to social problems and best outcomes that benefit everyone involved. Empathy and ethics lie at the roots of altruism.

Aquarius likes modernity; social inclusion; socially progressive ideals and movements; the new and unusual; exchanging ideas; debate; lively discussion; scientific facts; independence; freedom; autonomy; and kindness.
